FRANK MURPHY APPOINTED TO TEMPLE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING ALUMNI ASSOCIATION'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS

(Philadelphia, PA., July 8, 2010) – Frank G. Murphy, Esq., a partner at the law firm of Deeb, Petrakis, Blum & Murphy, P.C., has been named to the Temple University College of Engineering Alumni Association's Board of Directors. He also is a member of the Temple University College of Engineering Board of Visitors.

Mr. Murphy is a graduate of the Temple University College of Engineering with a degree in Mechanical Engineering Technology. He also received his master's degree in Mechanical Engineering from Penn State, as well as his J.D. from the Temple University Beasley School of Law. He was recently quoted in the Temple Engineering magazine on the usefulness of his engineering degree in his legal practice, specializing in construction law and commercial litigation.

"Even during engineering school I was interested in the business and legal side of things because so much of what engineers do is controlled by what lawyers, regulators and government officials do," he said. "It's given me the ability to analyze not just the legal issues but to understand the engineering and technical issues."

At Deeb, Petrakis, Blum & Murphy, Mr. Murphy also represents banks and other lenders, and has an active municipal law practice. He has experience in complex construction cases, "workout" litigation, check fraud, Uniform Commercial Code matters, and dispute resolution. His municipal representation ranges from zoning and land issues to general transactional matters.

An active member of the community, Mr. Murphy is Solicitor for the Parking Authority of the City of Chester, Delaware County, a member of the School Board of the Unionville Chadds Ford School District in Chester County and Delaware County, and the Paralegal Advisory Committee of the Delaware County Community College. He is also a former member of the Aston Township, Delaware County, PA Board of Commissioners.
